Jesus claimed that He must be about His Father's business. What was His Father's business? When His parents found Him, He was sitting in the midst of the teachers, both listening to them, and asking them questions. Jesus was in the Temple as a thoughtful learner, not as a teacher. When the rabbis taught, they asked a lot of questions. Students would answer and ask their own questions. It was very interactive. At the time, the business of the Father for Jesus was to be a ...

Topical Sermon: "I Must Be About My Father's Business"

Scholars hesitate whether or not to adopt the rendering of the old Syriac Version, "in my Father's house," instead of the broader and vaguer "about my Father's business," as the Greek will allow either translation. It seems to us the best to retain the old rendering we love so well, "about my Father's business."
